

Richmond Community Foundation

Using the Power of Philanthropy to build Healthy, Sustainable Communities.

Corporate giving is a reflection of a company's unique culture and values. Let Richmond Community Foundation assist your company with a community grants program tailored to your charitable goals and business. From accepting complex assets to measuring grant impact, we have the experience and expertise needed to make giving effective, and easy.

How it Works

- Your company makes a gift to Richmond Community Foundation using cash, stocks, real estate, other assets, or a combination of assets.
- We set up a special fund with a name you select.
- Your company receives tax benefits in the year the gift is made. Gifts may be added at any time.
- We work with you to shape a grants program that meets your charitable objectives and interests.
- We handle all administrative details, issue grants in the name of the fund, and assist in enhancing your visibility as a good corporate citizen.

Corporate Advised Fund Benefits

Simplicity. A Corporate Advised Fund is a component fund operating under RCF's Federal Tax ID; thus there are no tax returns for your company to file, no excise taxes to be paid, no minimum payout requirement, no upfront legal fees, and no legal liability. It is a seamless means of outsourcing your corporate giving program.

Efficiency. A Corporate Advised Fund is created by a standard agreement between the corporation and the Richmond Community Foundation. A nominal annual fee covers all administration and grant making services; investment management fees vary according to the investment strategy selected.
